2. THE CRADLE OF LIEGE

FROM THE PRINCE-BISHOPS' PALACE TO THE CATHEDRAL

The city of Liège grew around the cathedral of Our-Lady-and-Saint-Lambert, built on the scene of saint Lambert's martyrdom. The prince-bishops had their residence constructed nearby. Today, you can admire its magnificent architecture and the sixty columns in its inner yard, no two of which look the same. Place Saint-Lambert still evokes the cathedral, which was torn down during the Revolution, and is steeped in over a millennium of history. This is where the various states and levels of government congregated. You will then get to the old l'Île district, which is caught in the embrace of the river and is home to the opera house, the present-day Saint-Paul's cathedral, pedestrian streets perfect for shopping and a must-see area, the Carré.

Note: some of these sites may be subject to access restrictions depending on their opening hours.

RC Guide: € 70 (adults) – € 60 (schoolgroup)
Art&fact: € 90 (adults)* – € 80 (schoolgroup)
(*) Art&fact rate for weekends and public holidays : € 100

3. HORS-CHÂTEAU

A TALE OF HERITAGE AND MUSEUMS

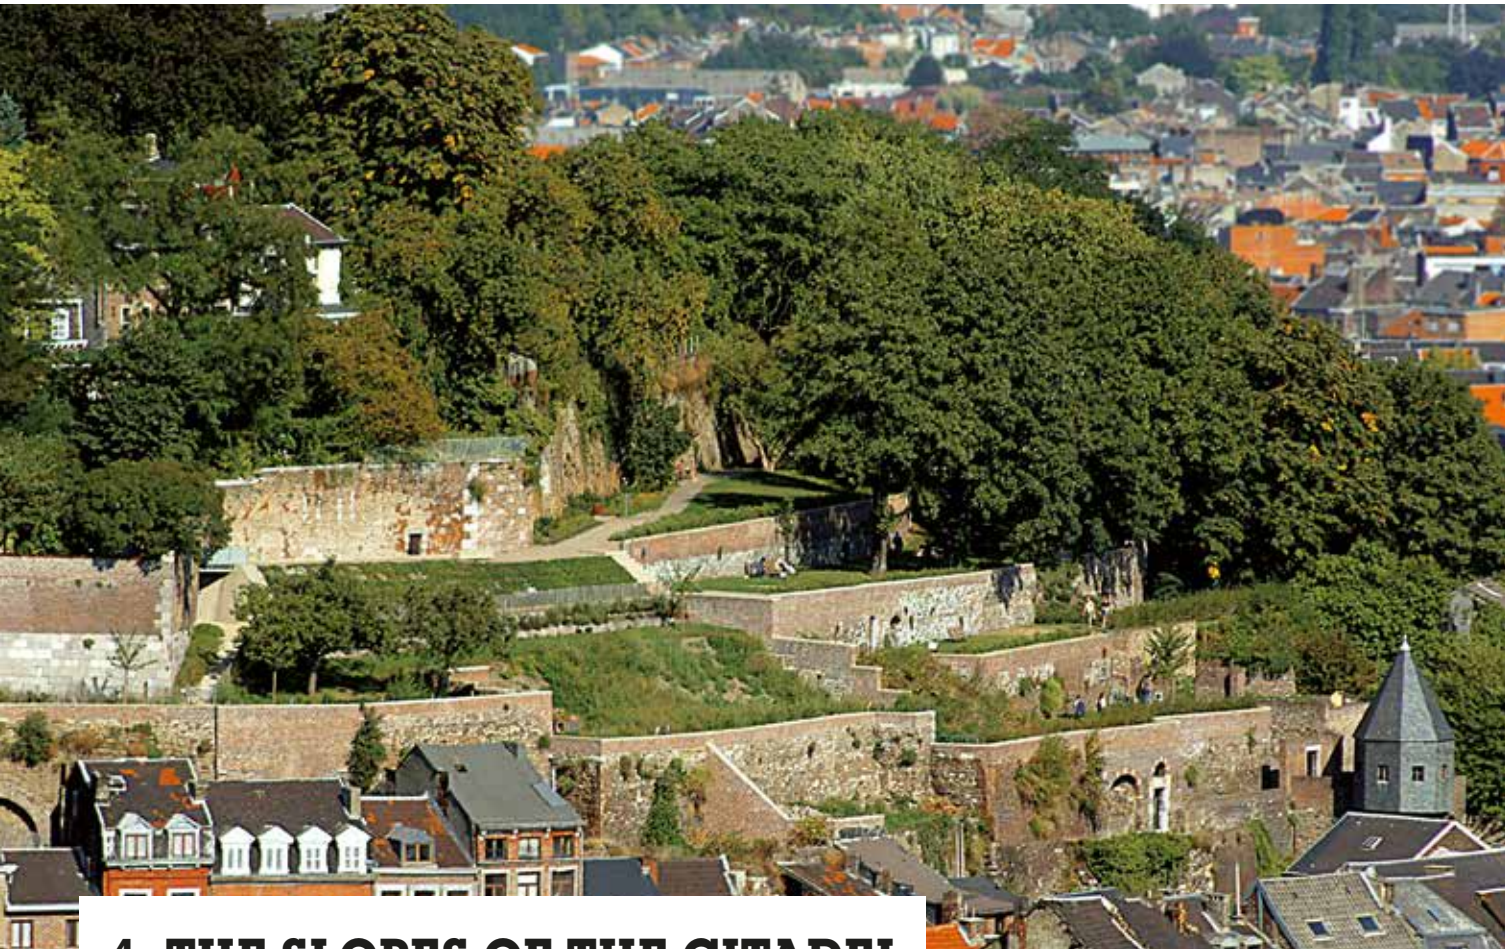

As its French name suggests, the Hors-Château district was located outside the ramparts built in the early 11th century. Saint-Bartholomew's collegiate church, founded in 1015, also lay outside the city walls at the time. Beautiful, rich residences dating from the 17th and 18th centuries can be seen here, as well as Liège's famous culs-de-sac. It is in this district, home to blacksmiths, drapers, fullers, butchers and others, that Curtius had his splendid palace built in the late 16th century and ran his arms business. Nowadays, there are antique dealers and lots of museums: the Grand Curtius, the Museum of Walloon Life, the Ansembourg Museum, the Light Museum... You will also discover the famous Montagne-de-Bueren, an imposing 374-step staircase leading to the hill upon which the citadel rests. Finally, in front of the 18th-century city hall, the Perron fountain stands on Place du Marché as a symbol of the liberties of the people of Liège.

Note: some of these sites may be subject to access restrictions depending on their opening hours. No access to museums.

RC Guide: € 70 (adults) – € 60 (schoolgroup)
Art&fact: € 90 (adults)* – € 80 (schoolgroup)
(*) Art&fact rate for weekends and public holidays: € 90

4. THE SLOPES OF THE CITADEL

( IN THE MICHELIN GREEN GUIDE)

Wander down the paths and along the ancient walls in a journey through time... just a stone's throw away from Place Saint-Lambert, right in the heart of Liège. With over sixty monuments and five classified sites, vestiges of the city's old landscape are sprinkled all over the slopes of the citadel. You will discover spectacular places such as the renowned Montagne-de-Bueren staircase and the amazing sights from the citadel hill. But there is also a more intimate side to this area: getting lost in a maze of yards, staircases and alleys, treading paths across meadows and forests... In other words, discovering the countryside right in the heart of a modern city.

Note: for good walkers. The slopes are open from 9 am to 6 pm (summer) and from 9 am to 5 pm (winter). The site remains closed throughout the first week of October due to the organization of the Nocturne des Coteaux de la Citadelle event on the first Saturday in October.

5. A LEFT-FIELD LOOK AT THE CITY

An original and interesting tour of the city's past and present, showing you the historic centre of Liège in a whole new light. Starting from the Archéoforum, under Place Saint-Lambert, the walk ascends the bottom of the hill to the Terrasses des Minimes. From their beautiful gardens, above the city's roofs, you can admire a fantastic panorama of Liège, providing an insight into its history. A short descent towards the Vieux Joncs tower, followed by a stroll along Rue du Palais, is the perfect opportunity to discover some typical courtyards on the way down. The old Hors-Château street leads to the Richonfontaine underground gallery, an imposing place which plunges into the depths of the hill (exceptional access). You will then get to the surprising Cour Saint-Antoine and Place Saint-Barthélemy, as well as the inner courtyards of the Grand Curtius.

Note: Lots of staircases. The slopes are open from 9 am to 6 pm (summer) and from 9 am to 5 pm (winter). The site remains closed throughout the first week of October due to the organization of the Nocturne des Coteaux de la Citadelle event on the first Saturday in October.

6. THE CATHEDRAL AND THE CARRE DISTRICT

Saint-Paul's cathedral, an old collegiate church, was founded in the 10th century and rebuilt in the 13th and 14th centuries. Today, it is home to many works which used to be kept at the old Cathedral of Our-Lady-and-Saint-Lambert, torn down during the Revolution. The old l'Île district, one of the oldest in the city, dates from the 11th century, when the famous Carré, with its orthogonal street layout, was created. It is now full of entertainment venues, including show halls, cinemas, bistros and restaurants, as well as shopping streets. Let a guide take you on a journey of discovery of this friendly district which has made Liège famous.

Note: the cathedral is open from 8 am to 5 pm and may be subject to access restrictions depending on religious services.

RC Guide: € 90 (adults) – € 80 (schoolgroup)

7. GUILLEMINS STATIONS AND ITS ART NOUVEAU SURROUNDINGS

It is worth exploring the Guillemins district after visiting the station itself (see the description of visit no. 23). The area owes its name to the Hermits of Saint William, a monastic order which was present in the neighbourhood from the 13th century to the 16th century. The latter half of the 19th century saw the district grow around the station, built in 1842 on the railway line from Liège to Brussels. At the time of the Belle Époque, the city was blooming in the wake of the 1905 World's Fair. Discovering the Art Nouveau facades and the urbanology of the neighbourhood will give you a taste of this period.

RC Guide: € 90 (adults) – € 80 (schoolgroup)
 Art&fact: € 170 (adults)* – € 140 (schoolgroup)
 (*) Art&fact rate for weekends and public holidays: € 190

8. OUTREMEUSE DISTRICT

HERITAGE AND FOLKLORE

This old neighbourhood of Liège, located on the right bank of the river Meuse, lay within the second walls built in the 13th century. Outremeuse's development can be traced back to the construction of the first bridge, the Pont des Arches (late 11th century), linking the right bank of the river Meuse to the centre of the city. It was the only bridge spanning the river until the 19th century, when the district underwent a true demographic and town planning explosion. Today, wide avenues brimming with Art Nouveau contrast with the medieval narrow lanes and cul-de-sac. An area of tanners and manual workers, Outremeuse is a sanctuary for the city's folklore and is also the birthplace of Tchantchès, the hero of Liège's puppet theatre.

Option: a tour focusing exclusively on Art Nouveau in Outremeuse.

RC Guide: € 90 (adults) – € 80 (schoolgroup)

9. THE FORMER PRINCE-BISHOPS' PALACE

The former Prince-Bishops' Palace dates from the early 16th century and is now home to the Palace of Justice and the Provincial Palace.

In 1849, a new west wing was converted to Neo-Gothic style, in line with the old buildings. The first yard is famous for its sixty columns, whose capitals are decorated with grotesque figures, none of which look the same. The inspiration for them probably came from the discovery of the New World and the literature of the time, including Brant's ship of Fools and Erasmus' Praise of Folly.

Time has not diminished the Palace's status as one of the most beautiful 16th-century civil buildings in Europe. We invite you to discover the Provincial Palace wing, which boasts 18th- and 19th- century decorations and halls.

Note: Visits only on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. Subject to access restrictions on the day of the visit.

RC Guide: € 70 (adults) – € 60 (schoolgroup)

10. ROYAL THEATRE (OPÉRA ROYAL DE WALLONIE)

Until the early 19th century, theatre- and opera-goers in Liège used to pour into shacks on La Batte, where they stood while they watched plays in the candlelight. 1820 saw a huge improvement on these precarious and uncomfortable conditions with the inauguration of Liège's Royal Theatre, home to the Opéra Royal de Wallonie.

Discover this institution's magnificent performance hall and its recently restored wings to appraise its evolution and the tweaks made to meet the requirements of today's shows and staging. The upper terrace offers an unobstructed view of the city centre.

Note: subject to access restrictions on the day of the visit.

RC Guide: € 90 (adults) – € 80 (schoolgroup)
 Art&fact: € 135 (adults)* – € 115 (schoolgroup)
 (*) Art&fact rate for weekends and public holidays: € 155

11. IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF SIMENON

Georges Simenon spent his childhood and teenage years in Liège. Later, renowned for the sheer scale of his work, he freely admitted that he often drew his literary inspiration from his memories of Liège's landscapes, characters and atmosphere. The walk is an opportunity to discover, in the steps of Maigret's creator, the typical atmosphere of the first quarter of the 20th century, when Liège earned the title of the Ardent City. Discover the places where the great writer spent his childhood and youth. Exceptional admission to the Caque, a meeting place for the young Simenon's artist companions, as described in the novel The Crime of Inspector Maigret. It is impossible not to be impressed by the atmosphere conjured up so vividly by Simenon.

 Art&fact: € 170 (adults)* – € 140 (schoolgroup)

12. SAINT PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

As the capital of an ecclesiastic principality for eight centuries, the city of Liège was a major political, religious, artistic and cultural centre in the heart of medieval Europe. It was therefore a natural location for many religious institutions. No fewer than seven collegiate churches sprouted around the cathedral of Our-Lady-and-Saint-Lambert at the turn of the second millennium, as well as several abbeys and monasteries. These buildings now serve as precious reminders of the city's prestigious past. We invite you to explore Saint-Paul's cathedral, the worthy successor of the cathedral of Our-Lady-and-Saint-Lambert, which was destroyed during the Revolution.

Note: Only during opening hours and subject to access restrictions depending on religious services.

GENERAL BOOKING TERMS

The customer acknowledges she or he has read all the information concerning rates, content and other elements related to the services provided by the Tourist Information Office (Office du Tourisme) and its service providers. Booking automatically implies acceptance of these general terms.

BOOKING

Booking is made using the form attached which is to be sent to the Tourist Information Office by post or e-mail or via the on-line form on the www.Liège.be web site, at the latest 10 working days before the arrival of the group. The booking becomes effective when payment of the total amount for the service has been made and the reservation has been confirmed by the Tourist Information Office.

A reservation in a shorter period may be accepted only if the payment is made the day of the reservation with sending the proof of payment. Any cancellation will not be refunded.

Booking of coaches via the Tourist Information Office must be mentioned on the reservation form. To help the day run smoothly, the meeting time and place for the group must imperatively be mentioned on booking. The Tourist Information Office reserves the right to adapt the programme depending on the time constraints to be respected.

In the case of a meal, the exact number of participants and selected dishes must be communicated to the tourist office no later than 10 working days before the arrival of the group.

PAYMENT

Customers undertake to pay the full sum due for the service to the account of the organisation Les Manifestations liégeoises mentioned hereafter, at the latest 10 working days before the arrival of the group.

If the payment has not been made within the specified period, the Tourist Information Office reserves the right to cancel the booking.

CANCELATION

In case of cancelation by a customer, he must inform the Tourist Information Office at the latest 10 working days before the date of the visit, by post or e-mail. Failure to do so will lead to 50% of the payment made being retained by the Tourist Information Office as cancellation fees.

In case of cancellation on the day of the visit or not present at the appointed place, the total amount will be kept.

In case of cancelation by the Tourist Information Office, the entire sum received shall be refunded to the customer.

DEPARTURE

It is recommended that the group leader arrives 10 minutes before the scheduled time of the first visit to take care of practical or administrative details, at the meeting point arranged beforehand between the customer and the Tourist Information Office.

DELAYS

In the event of a delay of more than 15 minutes, the guide, whose mobile phone number appears on the confirmation document, should be notified. If not, he will not be required to wait more than 30 minutes. It may be possible to extend the visit beyond the scheduled time in accordance with the guide and depending on availability.

If the guide is delayed, the group shall wait for half an hour. With the agreement of the group and subject to the guide's availability, the visit may be extended by a time equal to the delay.

PERFORMANCE OF THE VISITS

The specified length of the visits mentioned assumes that the group is reasonably mobile. On joint agreement between the customers and guide, the visit may be adapted to suit specific visitors or conditions.

Guided visits are designed for a maximum of 25 people per guide in order to guarantee comfortable listening. At certain sites, in particular museums, the number of people per guide may be smaller.

No complaints shall be accepted concerning any problems linked to the comfort of the visit from a group exceeding the maximum number.

LIABILITY

In case of force majeure, the Tourist Information Office reserves the right to modify the performance of the programmes or replace the establishments by others of the same type.

The Tourist Information Office shall not be held liable for incidents related to the weather, accidents, transport delays, strikes, exceptional or sudden closures, as well as damage, loss or theft that may occur during the visits or stay.

The Tourist Information Office shall not be held liable for an increase in the rates attributable to one of its service providers.

These general terms are governed by Belgian law. The competent courts in case of disputes are the courts of Liège.
